Aimy Walker, of Tompkinsville, Kentucky, was transported to Tompkinsville Medical Center (TMC) to be treated for a head injury following a single-vehicle wreck on Gamaliel Road last Tuesday, January 28.

According to the accident report, Walker was traveling north on Gamaliel Rd. when she ran off the side of the road, dropped off the shoulder and overcorrected to the left.

Walker's 1994 Jeep Cherokee then traveled off the west side of the roadway and flipped twice before coming to a rest on its top against a tree.

Walker requested to be transported to TMC.

Responding to the scene were the Red Boiling Springs Fire & Rescue Squad and Macon County Sheriff's Department officer Brad Murphy. Danny Fisher of the Tennessee Highway Patrol was the investigating officer.

Walker was not restrained at the time of the accident and charges are pending.
